What is DevOps Awareness

DevOps is hot! But what is it actually? Is it just the setting up of teams with development and operations staff? Should we focus on tools? The DevOps Awareness training provides you in one session a broad overview of DevOps!

Ask 10 different people what DevOps is and you get 10 different answers. We therefore approach DevOps in this short training from a number of different perspectives.

We will cover issues such as Continuous Integration, Continuous delivery, Continuous Deployment, Culture, Transparency and starting with DevOps. We will offer tips for research on these subjects by means of books and websites. We also provide an overview of commonly used tools .

The training materials are in English; the training will be provided in English.

Who should attend the DevOps Awareness

The DevOps Awareness training is designed for anyone who wants to know more about the detail behind DevOps.

If you want to participate in this training, we expect you to have some experience in systems development and/or operations. If you lack this experience, then we advise you to participate in the Training DevOps Fundamentals (DASA) training.

Prerequisites

We assume that the participants in the DevOps Awareness training have followed the Scrum Kickstart or Agile Project Management training or have gained general knowledge of Agile and / or Scrum in another way. Knowledge or experience in the field of system development is not required.

Objectives

The objective of the DevOps Awareness training is to gain insight into what DevOps is all about.
