What is From wish to reality

How do I get from wish to reality? Based on the book "The creation spiral" of Marinus Knoope, you learn the steps you wish not only to dream, but also to realize them.

You are going to get started with the positive creation spiral. If you want to have an impact, it is important that you give sufficient attention to each step of the creative process (the creation spiral). At the end of the session you have insight into what you as personal leader have to do so that your dream is made reality and your impact is enlarged.

Who should attend From wish to reality

This training is for people who have ideas and find it difficult to make a reality of that idea. For any professional who wants to be creative and if you want to take things into your own hands in the search for who you want to be.

Prerequisites

Before you can follow this training, you must first have followed the Empathic listening training (communication skills and conversation control).

Objectives

How do I progress from wish to reality? Based on the book "the creation spiral" by Marinus Knoope, you learn the steps to make your wishes not only dreams, but also realize them. The creation spiral consists of twelve steps that help you to achieve your goals / wishes. The power of the model is in the smooth and logical process of those twelve steps. Every person has his own style: you have people who like to dream but never realize. You have the doers, who immediately throw themselves into the action without a clear dream as a guideline. You have the hard workers who are stubborn and do not communicate. And you have the bon vivants, who do not even start because it is more comfortable to lean back. Each type has its strength, but runs the risk of getting stuck with one or more steps in the creative spiral. Or you can skip a few. During this session you will learn why it is important to go through all the steps in the correct order.
