What is Data Analytics

Data Analytics (sometimes called Data Mining) is often used to accommodate complex / causal relationships in a model. This way, an organization can predict the effects of changes in the environment or company policy.

After this training the participant is able to answer the following questions:

- What methods and techniques are there for Data Analytics?
- Which organizations benefit from Data Analytics?
- When do you apply Data Analytics?
- What tools and software can you use?
- What are the relationships between the different techniques?
- Which project methodology do we have to support Data Analytics?
- We will also undertake some Data Analytics ourselves. Therefore, the student is asked to bring along a laptop with a working copy of Excel.

After the course the participant will be up to date on the latest trends and developments in the field of Data Analytics.
