Who should attend Implementing SAFe with SPC certification

This training is intended for anyone who wants to contribute to a successful implementation of SAFe

This training is often followed by, but is not limited to:

- change agents
- agile coaches
- advisers
- leaders and decision makers
- portfolio managers
- PMO managers
- IT managers
- product managers
- enterprise architects

The SAFe Program Consultant (SPC) exam is included with the training, the costs of the exam are part of the training price. You take this online exam at a place and time to be determined by yourself (but within 30 days after the training). Apart from following the training you will also have to do the necessary self-study via the SAFe website!

The training includes one year membership of the SAFe Community Platform. There you will find, among other things, an electronic version of the training material and a test exam. You will also find videos, a knowledge base and communities of practice.

Prerequisites

This training requires knowledge of and experience in software development, testing, business analysis, product management or project management.

Furthermore, this training requires knowledge of and experience in working agile

Although not mandatory, our experience shows that this training has the most added value when you already have some knowledge of or experience with SAFe.

Objectives

To perform the role of a SAFe® Program Consultant (SPC), attendees should be able to:

Lead an enterprise Lean-Agile transformation

Implement the Scaled Agile Framework (SAFe)

Empower with a Lean Portfolio

Align the organization to a common language and way of working

Perform Value Stream identification

Launch and support Agile Release Trains, and coordinate Large Solutions

Build and execute an implementation rollout strategy

Configure the Framework for a specific enterprise context

Train managers and executives in Leading SAFe®

Continue their learning journey and become enabled to train other SAFe roles in the enterprise
