What is Agile Programme Management (AgilePgM®)

Agile Programme Management (AgilePgM®) is a framework that enables organizations to deliver strategic outcomes through coordinated, iterative, and adaptable program management practices. It emphasizes flexibility, collaboration, and responsiveness to change, allowing teams to navigate complex programmes effectively.

Who should attend Agile Programme Management (AgilePgM®)

- Programme Managers: Oversee multiple related projects, ensuring they align with business objectives.
- Project Managers: Manage individual projects within a programme, focusing on Agile methodologies.
- Scrum Masters: Facilitate Agile practices and support teams in delivering high-quality outcomes.
- Business Analysts: Analyse business needs and ensure program deliverables meet those needs.
- Product Owners: Define product vision and work closely with Agile teams to deliver value.
- Team Leads: Lead Agile teams, promoting collaboration and efficiency.
- Change Managers: Manage organizational change initiatives within Agile programmes.
- IT Managers: Oversee IT projects and ensure they align with Agile programme goals.
- Consultants: Provide expert advice on implementing Agile programme management practices.
- Executives: Understand the strategic benefits of Agile programme management and support its implementation.
